Vontobel lists structured securities in Easy Euwax trading segment

High trading quality and transparency without exchange transaction fees for around 260,000 products

Vontobel is listing structured securities as an issuer in the Easy Euwax trading segment of Boerse Stuttgart Group. For the approximately 260,000 leveraged and investment products of Vontobel listed in Easy Euwax, no exchange transaction fees are charged.

As an exchange-based zero-fee segment, Easy Euwax complements the proven and tested Euwax segment of Boerse Stuttgart Group for structured securities trading and is open to all issuers. Morgan Stanley was the first issuer to list its products in Easy Euwax, followed by Raiffeisen Bank International, Erste Group and UniCredit. In total, the trading segment now comprises over 750,000 leverage and investment products on a wide variety of underlyings.

"With Easy Euwax, investors benefit from high exchange trading quality and transparency at no exchange transaction fees. Through this low-cost and reliable offering, we are strengthening exchange trading in structured securities – together with the issuers as our partners. We are delighted that another renowned issuer as Vontobel has joined Easy Euwax now," says Markus Jung, Head of Leveraged and Investment Products at Boerse Stuttgart.

"We are very pleased to have our products listed in the Easy Euwax trading segment of Boerse Stuttgart. The combination of high trading quality, transparency, and the absence of exchange transaction fees offers attractive conditions for investors trading structured products. As an issuer, we value this initiative to strengthen on-exchange trading and look forward to working with Boerse Stuttgart as a reliable partner," says Heiko Geiger, Global Head Flow Products Specialists at Vontobel.

The independent Trading Surveillance Office monitors price fixing and transaction settlement for exchange trading in the Easy Euwax segment. Investors are also provided with additional transparency ratios on the listed products as well as intuitive search features to make it easier to select products on the website of Boerse Stuttgart.
